Capstone Project - Pharmanac

Elevator Pitch:

Hi! I am Paige Hicks. I have a background in pharmacy, but I have several close friends who work in IT and I've always been interested in coding. I found Savvy Coders after trying to teach myself and quickly realizing how overwhelming it can be on your own.

While younger generations often integrate technology seamlessly into their lives, some adults use technology a bit differently. For my capstone project, I decided to create a user-friendly pharmacy web application that would cater to older generations and encourage those with impared senses to keep track of their medications online.

My Audience:

Ideally anyone who takes medications on a regular basis, but more specifically seniors who are easily overwhelmed with busy, complicated websites.
